

Newcastle & the Hunter Valley

Day 7 Tuesday 14 May

Lower Hunter Valley & Maitland

Today you travel to the nearby lower Hunter Valley and the fine city of Maitland where you visit the Regional Art Gallery and have time to enjoy the on site Seraphine Café for morning tea. Continue to National Trust listed Grossman House which was built in 1871. ($8 pay on the day). Grossman House was built by the merchant Isaac Beckett and this immaculately restored home captures the prosperity of Victorian-era Maitland. Housed within is an extensive collection of 19th century costumes and textiles related to local life and industry and characteristic furnishings. There is time for lunch in the centre of Maitland before taking a history walk with your tour leader. Mid afternoon you return to Newcastle for some free time and a farewell dinner.
