FOOD & WINE OF BORDEAUX - ROSA & DAVID

NEW

Known around the world for its prestigious wines, Bordeaux is much more than a wine region. Situated perfectly along the Garonne Estuary and between the Atlantic Ocean, lush lands of the Dordogne and just north of the Pays Basque, Bordeaux is a gastronomic paradise. Bordelaise cuisine is firmly tied to the local terroir, a word meaning the land that produces the unique products such as Cap Ferret oysters, the famous Foi Gras, exceptional lamb and duck and local saffron. In our food and wine pairings we will begin with a rich pate, and a taste of our own oysters before we celebrate some variations on a duck theme. We finish with the sweet of the region canale and a duo of cheese. Enjoy two red "Bordeaux Blend" wines; one from the famous Medoc sub-region, the other a Bordeaux Superieur from the Entre-Deux-Mers. As well, savour an original Sauternes, its succulence a result of 'Noble Rot'.

THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR, 1861-65

An awareness of the American Civil War which cost 600,000 lives is essential in understanding the history of the evolution of the United States. This course examines the complex causes of the war – the racism, politics and economics of slavery, the continental expansion of the United States from 1789-1860, the growing regional tensions between the North and South from 1820-1860, and the secession of the southern states and formation of the Confederacy in 1860-61. It explains why the North won the war by looking at the campaigns and key battles and the political and military leadership of the North and South. It examines the three phases of Reconstruction, 1865-1877, and the legacy of this war.

HORROR ON A GREEK ISLAND: CHIOS MASSACRE

«NEW»

This course looks at the Chios Massacre of 1822, where 100,000 inhabitants of the Greek island of Chios were killed, enslaved or displaced. The Massacre took place during the Greek War of Independence. Many of those that survived emigrated as refugees to as far as London, where they established communities and excelled. This course explores their stories.

THE TWO KOREAS: HISTORY, 1910 TO PRESENT

The divergent political and economic paths of North and South Korea have been pivotal to the geo-politics of the Asia-Pacific region since 1945. This course provides a history of the Korean peninsula from 1910 to the present. The course also shows that the Korean peninsula has been crucial to Australia's strategic and security interests since 1945, especially in relation to the evolution of the Australian-American relationship.

STATELY HOMES OF ENGLAND- AN INTRODUCTION

«NEW»

We look at some of England's most beautiful stately homes and the stories they can tell - of pride, romance, scandals and tragedy. And then there's the ghost stories! You decide. Why does Anne Boleyn's ghost keep visiting a house built years after her death? Was the body found at Longleat the missing footman, lover to the lady of the house? Britain's rich history is reflected in her sumptuous houses.

A BRITISH HISTORY IN PICTURES

Beginning with Stonehenge, we will look at the Romans, the treasures of Sutton Hoo, romantic castle ruins and sumptuous stately homes – and we will explore some of the dastardly plots and conspiracies that helped shape today's Britain. Thanks largely to the National Trust and English Heritage, the past is easy for travellers to explore. This course promises kings, queens, tragic wars, two uniquely British revolutions and a glimpse of the golden age of English literature. Travel through hundreds of years of turbulent history, make up your own mind about the ghost stories and discover the importance of bunting.

DAILY LIFE IN ANCIENT ROME

This course examines the Roman day and living conditions for the different classes in Roman society. In addition to the ruling class, it also includes soldiers, slaves, freedmen, prostitutes, the poor and gladiators. These are the "forgotten Romans", that bottom 95% of the population who aren't discussed in the Historical Records. Learn about what they ate, family life and their attitudes towards birth and children, death and retirement. No knowledge of Ancient Rome is assumed.

WHEN DEATH AND DYING IS INTERRUPTED

DYING: Using the technologies to help keep our bodies alive. Theoretically most organs can be kept alive by machines indefinitely. But this unprecedented shift in end-of-life care has created a major crisis in the widening grey zone between life and death for doctors, lawyers and families. The NDE and OBE phenomena's have also been re-investigated by medicine and science. DEATH: If our spirit/consciousness leaves us when we die, what happens if we are successfully resuscitated/brought back from death? Together we will discuss the very latest fascinating research, into both dying and death.
